Newsletter

1998 and 1999 - Newsletter

The last few months have been very productive for the IRF. An office has been set up with Sue Liell-Cock as Administrator. This has hugely assisted communications and we request that all contact be done through this office. All membership applications, queries and updates will be handled through here as well as communications on competitions, other organisations and all aspects of the IRF, including those detailed below. We have been working on various criteria and as details are finalised we will be putting them on our website for everyone's easy access. If they are not on the website yet, please contact this office for your copy.

IRF Race Rules

These have been drawn up and finalised and are available on the website. These rules will be used for World Champs, Continental Champs and any other official IRF events and are a guideline for countries to use for their national events.

Bid Documents

Bid Documents for a host country to hold the IRF World Rafting Champs or Continental Champs have been finalised and are also now available. The Continental Champs bid is open to flexibility. The World Champs are still heavily dependent on sponsorship, so please keep in contact if you have any possible options here.

IRF Standard Guide Requirements

The initial stage laying out guide requirements has been completed and the next stage of guide training is being worked on. It is hoped that these standards are accepted by all rafting organisations around the world.

Competitions

We are drawing up a rafting competition calendar, which will be kept on the website. Please let us know of all competitions being held in your country.

Camel White Water Challenge 1999 and 2000

A communication has been sent out already detailing what is happening and who has been invited to compete. The CWWC is an IRF approved event and gives it its full support, just as the CWWC has given the IRF its support. It will be run according to the IRF Race Rules with some special exceptions being made. The Kayak race is for points and the Time Trial is not; and the point structure is slightly different. The invitations to this event are dependent on the country being a member of the IRF by April 1999. Other teams have a chance to get to the 1999 CWWC by competing at the European Champs. The top team not already invited will be included for 1999.

In February 2000 the event is going to the Futalefu in Chile. Selection for the countries / teams for this event will be based SOLELY on Continental Selections. The 1999 Continental Selections must be held, according to the IRF rules, by 15 December 1999. Please contact this office to ensure your Continental Selections will be approved by the IRF. All participating countries must be members of the IRF prior to competing. The number of teams qualifying per region is as follows:

North America - 2, Latin America (South and Central) - 2, Africa - 2, Europe - 6, Asia - 2, Oceania - 1 and Host - 1. This totals 16 men's teams. Women's teams will be N. America - 1, Europe - 1, Oceania - 1 and the 4th will be a wild card (determined by the CWWC on merit).

Members and membership applications

The following countries had joined the IRF by the time of this letter: Czech Rep, South Africa, Belgium, Slovakia, Russia and Japan.

To join the IRF:

1. Form a National Rafting Organisation in your country that is representative of all rafters.
2. Send us a summary, in English, of the following sections of your constitution: - Aims / Objectives of the organisation, Membership Criteria, ie. who can join, voting and decision making, ie who votes your committee in.
3. Send us the list of the committee members, their positions and contact details for the organisation.
4. Pay the US$500 membership fee.
5. Fax the declaration through to this office.

We hope to hear from you all soon and that you all had a very Festive Season, whether it was in the snow or the sun!

COMPETITIVE RAFTING

2001 was a year of great international competitions. The IRF World Champs were held in West Virginia, USA and despite the awful tragedy of September 11, most teams still made it and showed great international unity in the face of this world intimidation. The event was well run and thoroughly enjoyed by the 11 men's and 5 women's teams that made it. Germany came away with the top honours with Italy second and Czech Republic third. The women's section was won by the Czech Republic, with Slovakia second and the USA third. For more details, check www.rapidpulse.net.

The final Camel White Water Challenge event was held on the Zambezi River earlier in September and saw the domination of the European teams broken and southern Hemisphere teams doing very well. Australia came away as the champs, followed by Canada and then New Zealand. The women's section was won by New Zealand for the 3rd time in a row, followed by USA in second and South Africa in 3rd. This was the last CWWC as Camel have now pulled out of sponsoring the event.

FUTURE EVENTS

WORLD CHAMPS: We are hoping to run the 2002 IRF Champs in Tasmania in December. This is dependent on sufficient sponsorship coming through and this will only be finalised by the end of May. Whether this event happens or not, World Champs will be held in 2003. Various venues are being investigated for this and more details will be given at a later date.

EURO CHAMPS: If any country is interested in holding the 2002 IRF Euro Champs, please contact as soon as possible. As soon as more definite news is known we will let you know.

OTHER EVENTS: There are other international events being held and we suggest you keep an eye on our website, www.intraftfed.com, to keep up to date with them. At this stage we suggest you look at the Czech Republic's calendar of events which has an international event early June and the Europa Cup and Gumotex Cup events. Italy's calendar is also available on the website as are the coastal rafting events in Belgium. The USA events can be found on www.rapidpulse.net and include the Clear Creek event in May and the Gauley event in September. Indonesia usually hold an annual international event and New Zealand held their festival in February.

If you have events you wish to be announced to the rafting world please send them through to us and we can add them to the website as well as send the out to our database of contacts.

GUIDE TRAINING & EDUCATION

This has been split into regions so that more workshops can be run and so the whole process can be run more easily by the regional representatives. The representatives so far are: Europe - Steve Thomas (please click here), Robert Kazik (please click here), Americas - Steve Nomchong (please click here), Australasia - Grant South (south@hiddenvalleys.co.nz), Africa - to be confirmed

French and Spanish translations of the Guide Award Scheme, Minimum Requirements and Training Programme will be added to the website soon as will the list of IRF certified guides, instructors and assessors.

Guides and companies are making good use of the advertising facilities on our website to either find guides or guiding work.

Keep an eye on our website for updates on the above topics. Also feel free to contact us if you have any suggestions or would like to be more involved in the running of the IRF.

MEMBERSHIP FEES are due again for the years 2002/ 2003. The amount is still US$500 for the 2 years.

PLEASE NOTE - the email address for the IRF is (please click here). The email address thansen@iafrica.com was for the CWWC and so is no longer for rafting matters of this nature.

Happy paddling !!

GUIDE EDUCATION & TRAINING

The IRF website (www.intraftfed.com) has been updated with the list of IRF certified Assessors, Instructors and Guides. The French and Spanish versions of the GT&E system of certification has also been made available there. The advertising page for guides and companies has been erroneously requesting passwords and logins. This should be sorted by the time you receive this newsletter. Apologies for those who encountered this.

1) 2003 IRF WORLD RAFTING CHAMPS

The Czechs are the Mens World Rafting Champs! After being so close the last 4 World Champs (2nd, 3rd, 4th, 2nd), they have at last secured that elusive 1st place! Congratulations! And the New Zealand Women took back their crown from the Czech women's team making it the 3rd time they are the Womens World Rafting Champs - well done!

The general response from competitors is that the race venues were excellent for racing and that the race organization was flawless. The thanks must go to the volunteers, sponsors, teams, supporters, Czech organisers and all the others involved and particularly to Stan Hajek and Robert Kazik.

It was an excellent turn out with 24 countries being represented and a new record of 10 womens teams, which is very promising for the future of women's rafting internationally.

The full results as well as pictures and daily news releases can be seen at www.e-rafting.info/rafting/WRC03.

Various judges courses and exams were run in Czech before the start of the World Champs. All these judges are now certified IRF Judges (Assistant Judges level). These Judges can confirm their certifications on the website at www.intraftfed.com/sport & comp/Race Judges.

5) GUIDE TRAINING & EDUCATION

A GT&E Instructor Workshop was run after the World Champs. This was held on the Salza river in Austria. The workshop was very succesful and a number of Instructors were certified, furthering the extent to which the IRF certification is extending itself.

If there is a need for a workshop to be run in your region please contact us and we can get to work on that. Workshops are ideally run to certify potential instructors as IRF Instructors so that they can then certify all their future guides and trip leaders with the IRF certification.

6) BIDS FOR 2004 WORLDS

All bids for the 2004 IRF World Rafting Champs should be sent to us before the 15th October. A decision as to where it will be next year will be made before the end of this year.

7) CONTACT WITH NEW COUNTRIES

We are always wanting to extend our contact to all those that raft and so are always pleased to make contact with individuals, companies and organisations that have these same interests.

Recently the IRF was invited to a rafting seminar in China which was successful and it seems that future contact and growth between us is viable. China has a huge potential for rafting and could be a great source of new adventures for the ever hungry guides. They have also shown an interest in future competitions.

Other countries we have recently heard from for the first time are the Philipines, Honduras, South Korea and Portugal. We also had a number of new countries joining recently: Greece, Austria, Hungary and revival of contacts with many other countries. We are therefore looking forward to an even bigger World Champs next time!

It is with sadness that we announce the loss of Andy Duff of New Zealand. Many of you will remember him from the 1997 - 1999 Camel Challenges. His untimely death due to a road accident while rafting in the USA has been a shock to many and he is a big loss to our rafting fraternity. His ashes will be scattered into the Kaituna River in Rotorua/NZ in a ceremony there in the next few days.

1) 2003 IRF WORLD RAFTING CHAMPS

The World Champs are drawing near very rapidly and teams are scrambling to finalise their entries. We are looking at at least 22 countries being represented at the event, possibly even up to 29! Out of those entries we are looking at about 11 women's teams, which is an excellent number and shows how competitive rafting is on the increase among women. In Norway and Britain it seems the women are more organised and competitive than their men as they are only sending womens teams!

The event promises to be highly competitive and organised as the top teams from around the world prepare to face each other and the Czechs, who are very practised at running numerous large rafting events throughout their season, get everything and everyone in order. Any spectators keen to see the event can look at the details on www.e-rafting.info. The location is about 200km from Prague and not far from the Austrian border.

2) OTHER EVENTS: -

a) European Cup: Come practise before the World Champs! 23-24 August in Ceske Budejovice, near Lipno.

b) Gauley Whitewater Challenge:

is one of the premier whitewater events in the USA. Held annually on the Gauley river in West Virginia this event offers something for everyone. The Whitewater Cup is the selection race for the USA National Rafting Teams (men and women). Any team, from any country can participate. There will be a sprint, slalom and downriver as per the IRF rules. This event will be held from September 18 - 22nd. On Monday the 22nd experience boaters can compete in the Animal Gauley Downriver Race. This race is open to rafts, kayaks, boogie boards or anything you think you can use to get down the river. A new addition this year is the Gauley Citizens Challenge. This race is designed for your friends who don't paddle on a regular basis to compete against other inexperienced paddlers on a world-class river.

Get your friends to sign up with one of the local outfitters on the Gauley River (17 to choose from) and they will supply the guide, raft, gear and transport for a small fee. This event is one of the larger whitewater events in the US and now there is a chance for everyone to compete in a race that is right for them and their experience. For more info log onto www.rapidpulse.com, send an email to gauley@rapidpulse.com or call 303 989 7194

All 3 events (whitewater Cup, Animal Gauley Downriver Race and the Gauley Citizens Challenge) make up the Gauley Whitewater Challenge.

1) WORLD RAFTING CHAMPS 2005: Quijos river, Ecuador, 12-16 Oct.

Overall results attached; Full results at: <http://www.raftingecuador.org/pages/events.html>

Congratulations go to RUSSIA men and Czech women who are the new World Rafting Champions! Well done to ALL teams!

The event began with the USA men taking first place in the Sprint, with Canada and Russia close behind. In the women's section the New Zealander's took Sprint honours with Slovakia and Norway in 2nd and 3rd.

Russia performed very well in the Slalom to clinch a solid first place for the men with Brasil and Germany take a close 2nd and 3rd. The Czech women took a convincing first in Slalom with Slovakia 2nd and Australia 3rd.

The deciding event, Downriver was won convincingly by the Czech men but this was not enough to overtake the Russians (3rd) for first place. Germany took 2nd place in the Downriver which unfortunately did not get them the 3rd place overall that were hoping for. The USA, although only coming 4th in the Downriver, managed to hang onto 3rd place overall.

The Czech women sealed their World Champs status by winning the Downriver, with NZ achieving 2nd in the downriver and overall. Slovakia's 4th place in the downriver secured them a 3rd place overall.

A HUGE thank you must go to Steve Nomchong and all his volunteers that made the event happen in a most succesful way.

1) NEW YEAR

We hope you all have welcomed in the New Year with enthusiasm albeit with great sadness for the plight of those in Asia and for all those that have lost loved ones in the Tsunami.

The year is a big one for us all as the World Champs will be held this year in October in Ecuador. The rafting news has poured in over the last few weeks so this has become a long and newsy letter!

2) RAFT RACES

a) WORLD CHAMPS 2005 If you are wanting to race a team in the WRC 2005 then the following are the criteria that you need to satisfy:

- i) Your country's rafting organisation must be a fully paid up member of the IRF;
- ii) your country must have held or will be holding fair and credible national selections to choose the best men's and women's teams to represent your country.

If you have any queries on this please get back to us.

b) COPA AMAZONAS, Ecuador (same venue as the 2005 World Champs)

The Copa Amazonas 2004, prelude to the 2005 WRC, was successfully held by Club Rafting ECUADOR on the Quijos river in Ecuador from October 27-31. Eighteen teams from the Czech Republic (2 women, 5 men), Russia (3 men), Slovakia (1 woman, 1 men), Japan (1 men), Brazil (1 men), USA (1 men), Venezuela (1 men) and Ecuador (2 men) competed at the same sites where the next WRC will be held from October 12-16, 2005. The event was especially important for the delegations from Czech Republic (women and men) and Russia (men) as they used it to select which of their top two teams from their national championships will represent their respective countries at the 2005 WRC.

The winners of the Copa Amazonas 2004 were: Women - Czech Women 2 / Troja/Stan Prague (Jezinky) and Men - Altai-Raft (Russia). The complete results can be found at www.raftingecuador.org

c) INDIA

i) INDIAN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS were held recently. There were 10 mens teams and 1 womens teams and the standard of rafting has seen a marked improvement since the India Cup in March this year. The event went well and it is a good sign that rafting in India is going from strength to strength. Results can be seen at: www.intraftfed.com/sport & Comp/

ii) INDIA CUP 2005

After the great success of the India Cup earlier last year they are planning the second one for this year.

Dates: 12 to 20 March 2005

Venue: River Satluj in Himachal Pradesh, India

Teams invited: Open to all IRF members (Men's and Women's teams)

Entry fee: $ 150 per team. (6 +1)

d) USA - up and coming races for next year

i) Gore Canyon Race: August 19-21, 2005

This race consists of the Whitewater Cup (U.S. National Rafting Championships) and the traditional downriver race. Gore Canyon is one of the top class V runs in Colorado. The Gore Canyon Festival is all about the paddler, not only is the race solid but there is also music, movies, videos of the days paddling and is a great atmosphere to camp, race hard and enjoy. The Gore Canyon Race is held the 3rd week in August every year so you can always plan ahead.

ii) The Clear Creek Downriver Race. June 3, 2005

This event will be from Lawson to Idaho Springs, CO. Clear Creek, is one of Colorado's hidden gems for river running. The Lawson to Idaho Springs section is a continuous class 4 run with many drops and no flat water. In early June the water is cold but high. A perfect race section. It will take top teams just under 45 minutes to complete the section. The race is open to rafts, kayaks, shredders, sledgers, and so on. This years raft race is a qualifier for Gore Canyon 205 and entry into the Whitewater Cup (US National Rafting Championships). In addition, the Citizen's Challenge, crew of novice or amateur paddlers with an experienced guide, now in its third year, will be a major focus. To find out how to get your company involved, please contact mark@rapidpulse.com. For more information on the race goto www.rapidpulse.com

e) NORWAY will be holding their Extremesport week again this year from Tuesday the 21st to Thursday the 23rd June 2005. A rafting event consisting of sprint, slalom and downriver is included and this event will be a part of the Euro Cup series. This should be particularly appealing to those countries close to Norway as they at last have an event on their own doorstep. You can see more information and photos on <http://www.ekstremesportveko.com/>

f) SOUTH AFRICA held their National Champs on the Tugela River at Ukutula Bush Camp near Winterton in Kwazulu Natal on the 18th and 19th December 2004. The winning teams (mens - Aardvarks, womens - Mary's Angels) are now eligible to represent SA in Ecuador later this year at the World Rafting Champs. Results can be seen at: www.inraftfed.com/sport & Comp

g) AUSTRALIAN Rafting Federation is hosting its Nationals Championships at Cataract Gorge Launceston Tasmania on the weekend of the 15th and 16th of January in conjunction with the Teva Cataract Extreme event. Water supplied by Hydro Tasmania. The A.R.F Nationals consist of a seeding/qualifying race, followed by the final consisting of a head-to-head elimination race, a slalom race and a down river race. Cataract Gorge is one of only a few areas in the world which combines challenging white-water up to class 4, a spectacular gorge with excellent public access, in a city. Importantly, the flow of the river is controlled by Trevallyn Dam located some 10km upstream allowing a measured flow (900ccs) that is predictable in terms of difficulty and hazard management.

h) AUSTRIA - For the Rafting season 2005, Sportklub Wildalpen are organising the official International Austrian Rafting Championship 2005 (R4) on the river Salza in Styria and invites all Rafting friends to this event in Wildalpen Styria. ii) The 2005 programme is being finalised. Please keep an eye on www.e-rafting.info for up to date information and if you are wanting your event included contact Stan as soon as possible.

At regular intervals discussions are had and the rules are updated, so please always work from the rules on the website or keep an eye on the date at the end of the rules which states when the latest updates were made to ensure you are working with the latest version.

5) CONGRESS

The IRF held a very successful email CONGRESS from the 23 - 27 January 2006. Out of 29 members we had 25 present. The key issues from this Congress were that the BOD remained the same, an European Committee and an Australasian committee were formed. The newly revamped Statutes were passed. The new International Relations committee was swamped with volunteers and all the other committees now have a good number of volunteers to take things forward. Thank you to everyone for making this happen so smoothly.

Please find attached minutes of this meeting.

KZN teams shine in rafting challenge

14 December 2006

The KwaZulu-Natal mens and womens rafting teams shone at the final leg of South African White Water Rafting Championships, and set in concrete their places in the team to represent South Africa at the World Championships, to be held in South Korea in 2007.

The third and final leg of the South African Championships was held this weekend on 40 cumecs of water immediately below Inanda Dam, just outside Durban.

Teams of six powered their way through the waves, dodging gaping holes in the unnatural Tops Needle rapid that is notorious for ending many a top paddlers race in the annual Dusi Canoe Marathon. With an additional water release, courtesy of Umgeni Water, the rapid provided some challenging rafting and exciting spectator entertainment.

The three races (slalom, sprint and downriver) that made up the event were dominated by the KwaZulu-Natal mens and womens teams, confirming that they are the best representatives for the country and have earned their slots.

The slalom race proved particularly challenging, to the extent that one upstream gate was completely left out by all except one of the teams earning a 50-second penalty in each run.

The only team to slice their way across the upper reaches of the rapid, daringly dropping over a number of dangerous pour-overs to successfully reach the illplaced gate were the KZN mens team, giving a preview of their world-class skill in the raft.

Second-placed in the mens slalom was the Lost Vikings team from Durban, although their navigation through the course would have had any hardy captain make them walk the plank.

Third were the Wits mens team who lost members of their crew on their second run and along with it any good score they might have achieved on their first run. The rules state you must cross the finish line with all members of your boat on board. Second to the KZN womens team were the ever-present Wits women.

The sprint race was an exciting one with two womens boats racing head to head. The KZN women, who started on the slower outside lane, stretched ahead in the initial few strokes, winning the faster current and placing themselves firmly between the second boat Wits women and the finish line. Any attempt to pass would have put the Wits team in the hazardous water on the outside of the main channel and they opted for the safer route, tailing the KZN team into a graceful second place.

The mens race was a calamity of rafts and paddles, as any route through the rapid would do in the rush for the finish line. The KZN men took the title once again.

The third event, downriver, was held in scorching midday heat on Sunday. The cool water was a relief, not only from the sun, but to soothe exhausted muscles at the end of the race. The course was quite a taxing one, incorporating lengthy flat stretches interspersed with rapids that required careful navigation so as not to get beached on rocks.

The KZN mens and womens teams came out on top, followed by the Wits women and the intrepid Lost Vikings in the womens and mens races respectively.

The Vikings held true to form and proved they are quite apt, as long as there are no gates to traverse.

The mens team members (including reserves) to represent South Africa in South Korea are Deon and Sven Bruss, Bruce Campbell, Guy Collyer, Brett Frost, Shaun Griffin and Craig van Heerden.

The womens team selections are Kate Frost, Lea Herbst, Nicky Irvine, Kirsten Oliver, Hilary Pitchford, Alice Rawlinson, Jeanette Walder and Jackie Fourie.

The World Championships will be held at the end of June 2007 and will host the top teams from around the world on a technical river near Seoul in the Icheon Province.

The South African teams will need to be fit and technically tuned to fare against the other teams and will begin a strict training programme including technical practice on a number of KZN rivers and the sea in the build up the World Championships.

Austria wins bid for 2008 Euro Champs!

Austria has successfully bid to hold the 2008 IRF Euro Champs. They have held a similar event for the past 5 years and so it is fitting for this event to at last be held at this venue.

The event will be held from the 13th to 18th May 2008 on the Salza River in the Wildapen Styria area. The hosts are Sk Wildapen.

What will be different is that for the first time the Euro Champs will see R4 and R6 events taking place at the same event. Although this has been done for Euro Cup events, it has never been done for Euro Champs.

Congratulations to Austria!

INDIA CUP NOT RECOMMENDED!

Due to the involvement of Shaukat Sikand in the Kashmir/ India Cup we have to recommend to you all not to take part in this event. The Indian Rafting Foundation was expelled as a member a few months ago due to his continual unacceptable and misleading actions. It was also found that the only person IN the organisation was Shaukat.

We are in contact with the Indian Government and are working with them to create a proper organisation which is democratically run and represents all rafters.

FUTALEUFU UNDER ASHES!

Many of us have spent time on the Futaleufu River or in the area itself and have been hooked by its beauty and the excellent 5 star quality of the river. In 2000 the Camel White Water Challenge was held there and those of you who were there and remember dancing until late at night in the sports hall or parading all dressed up (or down!) around the town in the procession will be able to appreciate the fact that the town is thickly covered in ash, the people of the area have had to evacuate, many animals have died and many livelihoods destroyed.

Go to www.futafriends.org or www.exchile.com to see what the latest news is and what you can do to help.
